Association professionnelle de criminologie du Nouveau-Brunswick
New Brunswick Professional Association of Criminology

June 2, 2026

To the Dean
Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences
Université de Moncton
Moncton, New Brunswick

Re: Proposed partnership to develop and accredit criminology training

Dear Dean,

On behalf of the New Brunswick Professional Association of Criminology (NBPAC), I am writing to propose a partnership with the Université de Moncton to develop and accredit continuing-education training in criminology.

The NBPAC brings together the province's criminologists and has adopted a continuing-education policy and a training-accreditation policy. We wish to offer our members high-quality synchronous (live) and asynchronous (self-paced) training, delivered by professors and field professionals.

A partnership with your faculty would allow us to design rigorous, up-to-date content, accredit courses that earn continuing-education units, and bring the academic community and professional practice closer together. Training would be offered, wherever possible, in both official languages.

Such a collaboration would give your programs greater visibility, facilitate knowledge transfer, and contribute to the protection of the public in New Brunswick.

We would be honoured to meet with you to present this proposal and discuss the details.

Please accept, Dean, the expression of our high regard.

_____

The President
New Brunswick Professional Association of Criminology
info@apcnb-nbpac.ca